Letter to T. A. Holt &amp; Co.

Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir: We want an agent in your town for the foremost paint in the world, Devco lead and zinc. We bespeak a few words to say how much more this means than simply the sale of good paint.

Our agent has to administer this agreement with every customer.

"If you have any fault to find with this paint, either now in putting it on, or hereafter in the wear, tell your dealer about it."

We become, you see, the partner of every man who uses our paint; and the partnership lasts as long as he chooses to continue it.

Suppose 100 jobs of painting are done with Devco lead and zinc this year; and some of them don't turn out satisfactory two or three years from now. Our agent has got to "do what is right at our expense."

Of course this means that we know our paint is going to turn out all right.

We have been in business, we and our fathers in business, 145 years; have made a great deal of paint; and have dealt with thousands and thousands of people. Are not in the least afraid to say "do what is right" when a job goes wrong.

And, in this age of adulteration, we say, "send it to your state chemist. If he finds it adulterated, we will pay his bill and send you $100."

There is such a thing as honest business yet in the world.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVCO &amp; CO.

WHEN PLANNING A NEW COSTUME.

If in type you run to the curly and ample—what the cruel world denounces as the "frou-frou" and fat-avoid flying ends, picture hats and large patterns.

If your figure is stiff, turn your back upon hard, straight lines, tucks that encircle the body and wide stripes, and remember that a flat waist is improved by a narrow belt.

Any strings that the under the chin will soften a countenance too worn for the hat above it, and unless you find the most becoming mesh in the world eschew veils.

The new veils, with their big velvet patches, gold sticks and crisp meshes, are singularly unbecoming. Not one woman in a hundred looks well in them; and when a black mesh overlays a white one—a favorite veil of the season—with any but the most becoming face—the result is glaring.

Few women realize the importance of dressing the arm properly. To the French the sleeve is the important part of the whole costume, and a sleeve spoiled in the making is a bodice marred. Many Parisian ladies who know the requirements of their figures better even than the dressmaker, when they looked after these details themselves, even to sewing in the sleeves.

Thin arms require sleeves with soft, drooping effects. Hats cannot be so carefully chosen. When trying on a hat hat close the eyes and get that blurred view which gives only the outline. See if the contour of hat and head is good, the lines graceful. This is a good way to get the ensemble, and the grotesque effect of a top-heavy hat will be seen at once.

JUMPED ON A TEN PENNY NAIL.

The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was walking her shoe as usual with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Forkland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third of the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all druggists.

Outline of the History of the Chapel Benevolent Society.

The secretary of the Chapel Benevolent Society, at its recent annual meeting, read a paper giving outlines of its history during the threescore and ten years of its existence, with a few remarks about former members.

Her auditors requested the publication of this paper in the Townsman, with the insertion of its unwritten "sides."

In giving some of her personal reminiscences the secretary ventures to retain the use of the egotistical pronoun.

Not all present may know that this society entered into life, March 4th, 1831, as a "Reading Circle." The members, while one read, were to make articles for sale, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to some benevolent object. Meetings were to be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock once a fortnight. Half past eight was the time for closing. Absentees were fined six cents. The meetings were opened with prayer and reading of the Scriptures, and closed with singing.

After reading two hours a recess was given for social chat, but the constitution urged, that at such times "the rules of propriety be not violated."

To dispose of the articles made, fairs were held. The first fair was held Sept., 1831, at Prof. Emerson's, when one hundred and twenty dollars were realized. The records do not state what object of charity enjoyed the receipts. A second fair was held July 2, 1832, at Abbot Academy. We are not told the exact sum raised but it sufficed to create five life memberships to the Seamen's Friend Society. These were conferred upon Dr. Woods, Prof. Stuart, Mr. Adams, principal of Phillips Academy, Mr. Green (who lived where Miss Ellis now lives, and for whom Green street, now called Morton street was named) and Dea. Newman.

April, 1836, another fair was held in Abbot Academy, receipts, thirty-three dollars. In 1837, still another fair was held in Abbot Academy.

In Jan. 1833, "It was voted to place boxes containing articles for sale, one at the Mansion House hotel and one at each of the bookstores." One was probably Dea. Newman's in the second story of the old Bank block and reached by an outside stairway. The other was Mr. Pierce's, occupying the southern half of the first floor of what is now Miss Cheever's residence. A long platform extended along this southern side and a huge book for a sign, stood on its Main street end.

Again in 1840, it was voted to keep a box at the Mansion house, to contain articles made by the Society for sale.

The objects of their beneficence were numerous. In 1833, a box of clothing was sent to missionaries in the Sandwich islands. For a while, sixty dollars a year were given to a school in Greece, "to be called the Andover School." The A. B. C. F. M. then had a mission station in Greece. Later, one hundred dollars were sent to this school, which was first in Athens, afterwards at Eleusis and later at Argos.

In 1834, having some articles on hand designated "Dormitory Clothing," it was given to the Samaritan Society "for the use of Indigent Students." This record is signed E. Stuart, secretary. Elizabeth Stuart was the first wife of Prof. Phelps, and mother of Mrs. Ward.

In 1838, the Greek school being closed, the money raised was given to missionary schools in India. Occasionally they sent clothing to home missionaries. Sometimes they contributed to the various societies of our denomination—the American Board, the Home Missionary and Education societies.

In 1839 was begun the preparation of clothing for the needy students in Phillips Academy and the Theological Seminary. This was almost the sole work for thirty years. In its prosecution the great ambition of a president came to be the surpassing of her predecessor in the number of garments completed; consequently the office became no sinecure, and was not held many successive years by the same incumbent.

A sample of the kinds and numbers of garments made is the following list for 1855-1859: 28 cotton flannel waistcoats under vests, 22 pairs of drawers, 18 shirts and 2 night shirts, 19 study gowns, 3 pairs of socks, 6 sheets and 7 pairs of pillow cases.

As gentlemen ceased to care for home made underclothing, or about 1877, the chief work came to be the preparation of Home Missionary barrels.

The only recorded list of members is for 1838. Of the fifty nine persons whose names are given, Mrs. Beth B. Edwards was the last survivor.

In the early years of the society its membership was not confined to Chapel attendants, some of its officers were from the South church. Its meetings were sometimes held in the homes of people attending other churches, as in the South parish, at Mr. William Foster's grandfather of Mr. P. Homer Foster at Rev. Mr. Badger's, Dea. Albert Abbott's and others; with Christ church people, as Mr. Panchard's, the donor of funds for a free school, and Mr. John Derby's. Mr. Derby lived in the house now taken by Prof. Moorehead, and kept a dry goods and grocery store in what is now Valpey's market.

The name of the society underwent many changes: at first it was Reading Association, then Sewing Society. In 1838 it became The Ladies' Missionary Society; in 1858, The Ladies' Benevolent Society; in 1881, The Chapel Sewing Society; in 1886, it reverted to the Ladies Benevolent Society.

The constitution has been altered times beyond count. Some of the early articles and by-laws are, quaint, and some obsolete.

"Should any member of the society misimprove her time, it is expected that this deficiency be made up by a fine."

"It is not desirable that those young ladies who do not attend the society in the afternoon come in the evening."

"Voted, That the refreshments shall be perfectly simple, consisting only of tea, bread and butter, and one kind of cake gingerbread being considered as such; and that a bowl of water be passed around after tea." Evidently this antedate dear bath-tubs.

Gentlemen admitted at eight and sing the closing hymn at half past eight.

In 1836, "It was unanimously voted to dispense with tea," but at a certain hour "cold water" be placed upon the table with bread and butter and one kind of cake." (The baker of fancy cakes was not then accessible.)

In 1837 some difficulty in providing places for meetings, having been experienced the previous Spring, "it was unanimously voted that they be held in alphabetical order at the houses where the members reside." This vote was repeated in 1840.

The food question called for much legislation. Increasing attractiveness of the collation increased the difficulty of finding places for meetings, and then there would be a return to first principles.

Mrs. Edgell daughter of Principal Adams, living where Mrs. Tarbox now lives was renowned for her delicious apple turnovers. A professor's daughter not with us now boasted to her companions after a society tea at Mrs. Edgell's that she had eaten nine tarts. (She is still alive.) Other ladies were noted for their toothsome cake or rolls, or their coffee. Coffee was of late introduction and at one time only one beverage was allowed, "either tea or coffee."

The Civil war gave occasion for many extra meetings to work for the Sanitary and Christian Commissions.

Some of the officers of this society served for many successive years.

Mrs. Park excels all others, having been directress for thirteen years, secretary for nineteen years, making a total of thirty-two years. Your present secretary has served you twenty-six successive years, to which may be added an earlier year, making in all twenty seven.

The next in length of service is Mrs. Joseph Emerson, directress two years, treasurer, twenty-two years, total twenty-four years.

Mrs. Churchill was our president longer than any other lady, seventeen years, having been vice president one year previous. Mrs. Thayer was president twelve years and Mrs. Stuart eleven years.

A review of these records brings forcibly to mind the old saying, "This is a dying world." The present secretary's first term of service was the season 1853-4. The other officers chosen for that year were: Mrs. Prof. Emerson, president; Mrs. John L. Taylor, vice president; Mrs. James Eaton, treasurer; Mrs. Prof. Barrows, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Prof. Park, Miss M. A. Stuart, directresses. Of this board the secretary still survives.

Our nine meetings that year were held at the homes of Mrs. Ralph Emerson, Mrs. H. B. Stowe, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Daniel Noyes, wife of the treasurer of Phillips academy, Mrs. Prof. Barrows, Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Mrs. Osgood Johnson, Mrs. Justin Edwards and Mrs. Prentice.

All these households have passed away from Andover hill, and few of their members still live.

At the final meeting that season a gift was made to the retiring president, who was to remove from town, two silver baskets and a silver teapot. Of the board of officers, even in 1874, when the present secretary resumed her office, not another remains in town. Her predecessors were, or afterwards became, ladies of note. Miss E. Stuart was the author of popular books, "Sunnyside," "A Peep at Number Five," and others. Miss Mary Stuart was one of the earliest American translators of German books. Mrs. Harriet Woods Baker was a very prolific writer. Mr. Bela B. Edwards was a lady of rare scholarship. Her death occurred within a few days of Mrs. Stowe's decease.

One who knew both ladies well said at that time, when the two former neighbors were naturally much in our thoughts and speech, that he considered Mrs. Edwards, intellectually, Mrs. Stowe's superior.

No Magic in This.

The sensation of pain, tenderness and swelling in the joints caused by rheumatism makes one wonder what the cause of this pain is. Scientific research shows us that the pain is caused by an acid in the system which should not be there. This acid is called "uric acid." It hides itself in the joints, and causes them to swell and become very painful. It is perfectly clear then that the ideal cure for this disease would be some substance that would dissolve the uric acid and rid the system of it. This is exactly what is done by TARTARIC ACID. The rheumatism is gone, but there is no magic in the cure. It is all based on science, or in other words, common sense. No matter how long standing the case is TARTARIC ACID will cure it. Send for free pamphlet.

Mrs. Stowe was a benefactor to the young folks on the hill. Never before, nor since, has it experienced so much social activity as she promoted. To be sure, an occasional caller might be dismayed by her going off into "a brown study" or even walking out of the room, forgetful of one's presence, but she opened her house often for parties, concerts and merry-makings, till "the trustees" looked grave and expressed doubts of the influence upon the Seminary, of so much gaiety.

One conversant with hill life in those days does not coincide with the opinion expressed by Mrs. Ward in "Chapters from my Life," that Mrs. Stowe was not treated with cordiality by the best of her neighbors.

That portrait of Mrs. Stowe so much copied by biographers was first presented to our inspection at a meeting of this society. The number of ladies present was large and we moved from room to room looking at her new pictures and other objects of interest recently acquired. I saw this picture of a lady, but did not read the inscription. Passing on to another room, some one asked, "Have you seen the new portrait of Mrs. Stowe?" "No where it is?" I was taken back to the very picture at which I had, looked, not dreaming it a representation of anyone I knew.

Mrs. Ralph Emerson was a woman of peculiar and interesting traits. Unprepossessing in person, and lacking taste in dress, she had remarkable conversational gifts, and her knowledge was unusual in its range, completeness and accuracy. A gentleman who spent many weeks in her society confessed he had searched in vain for a topic on which she was uninformed. She loved her flowers and could on festive occasions, decorate her house with them in a way that was marvellous for taste and skill, having no resources beyond her own garden. When quite an old woman she successfully took up flower painting.

Of Mrs. B. B. Edwards, I always stood in awe. Though always gracious in manner, I felt that she belonged to a realm of thought and living so far above and beyond my own, that I was reduced to insignificance in her presence.

Mrs. Samuel Taylor was a charming hostess, a woman of intense energy and activity, an excessive activity which was ever paying its penalty in terrible headaches. Dr. Taylor was, rather fussy about household affairs; there must not be a speck of dust on the furniture, the table linen must be spotless, etc. How that dear woman ever accomplished all she did has been a growing wonder, as one's own experience increased.

Besides her domestic labors and care of her four boys, the almost constant entertainment of strangers brought hither by the Academy, she did much clerical work for her husband, and looked after all the needy and sick students in the Academy. No neighbor was sick or in affliction but she visited them or sent them little dainties of her own preparation.

If any woman who ever lived on Andover hill deserves a lasting monument, it is Caroline Parker Taylor. And how beautiful was her Heaven-going on that quiet Sunday morning!

Another of our presidents was Mrs. John L. Taylor, a born diplomat, who, like Barrie's Sentimental Tommy always "knew a way."

One of the most notable women who ever lived on the hill was Mrs. Osgood Johnson, who was left a young widow with five children, on the death of her husband by consumption. Mr. Johnson was Dr. Taylor's predecessor. The house where Mr. Stearns now lives was then owned by the Samaritan Society and used as a hospital for sick theological students. In those days lack of present travelling facilities necessarily kept sick men here. Tenderly Mrs. Johnson nursed them, some of them to the end of the "valley of the shadow of death," as one may see in that pathetic row of graves in our cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson was never too busy at home with her large family of table borders, to lend a helping hand to new comers, or watch with a sick neighbor, or to be the confidential friend of all the theologues.

And there was Mrs. Barrows, the mother of ten children, yet never declining her share in all labors for the general welfare, and faithful Mrs. James Eaton, and gentle, steadfast Mrs. Joseph Emerson, Mrs. Jackson, wise in counsel and efficient in action; and many more who labored and into whose labors other generations have entered who know them not.

RICH ENOUGH TO KEEP DOGS.

Ephrum Eels, he had to scratch turned hard to keep ahead. But he always kept three dogs; he couldn't keep a dog but to save his life, they said. But he always kept three dogs; he said he might have been some one if he'd had half a chance. But getting grub from day to day gave Ephrum such a darned hard time. He never got where he could send the patches off his pants. But he always kept three dogs.

Ephrum's young ones always looked as though they was half fed. But he always kept three dogs. The house would be so cold his folks would have to go to bed. But Ephrum kept those dogs. One was sort of setter dog, and two of 'em was houn's. Their skins was full of satan; they was always on their rounds. Till people durnd their pictures in half a dozen towns. But Ephrum kept his dogs.

They bated Ephrum's pull tax 'cause he was too poor to pay. But Ephrum kept his dogs. How he scraped up cash to license 'em it ain't in me to say. But I know he kept his dogs. And when a sufferin' neighbor ambuscaded 'em, Eph swore. Then in a kind of homesick way he hustled round for more. He struck a lucky bargain, and, by thunder, he bought four—jest kept on keepin' dogs.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain

Very truly yours,

COUNTY NEWS.

Better Car Service.

By the will of Elizabeth A. Beede, who died in Salem, a short time ago, the bulk of her estate of about $2500 is left to the Essex county Homeopathic hospital. Miss Beede never employed a homeopathic physician but she was much interested in that institution. Hon. W. M. Hill is made executor of the will.

Schooner-Elector, Capt. Orlando Van Amberg of Gloucester, weighed out 605-25 pounds of salt cod as the result of her two trawl bank trips this season, giving her the remarkable stock of $19,862.82. This makes the Elector high line of the trawl salt bank fleet, and is in keeping with the work which Capt. Van Amberg has done year after year. State Officer George C. Neal and the Wenham police spent last Sunday investigating the break into the car office of the Boston & Northern railroad and the subsequent unsuccessful attack on the safe. The break was made some time between 10:10 p. m. and midnight of Saturday when the night watchman goes on. The burglars had made the attempt on the safe with a crowbar, chisel and sledge hammer, but were frightened away before they could complete the break. Several burglaries have occurred in this town of late and the citizens are much excited.

About 12:30 Sunday morning while Officers Burrill and McKenney of the Lynn liquor squad were passing along Highland street, they noticed a man acting suspiciously, as they thought, near the Highland House. Officer Burrill went into the yard and asked the man what he was doing there. The man replied that it was none of his business. Then Officer McKenney went in to assist his brother officer both of whom were in citizen's dress. As he did so the stranger gave McKenney a blow in the face almost knocking him down. Then they told the man they were officers, and he complied with them to the station. There he gave his name as Ernest F. Taylor. In court, Monday morning he was charged with assault on an officer. McKenney and Burrill testified substantially as related above, and Taylor told his story. He said he was returning home after calling upon a lady friend and went in the yard to tie a shoe lace. He said he thought that he was being "held up" when the two officers approached him and that was why he struck McKenney. Judge Berry discharged him, stating that he did not think Taylor meant to assault anybody.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Evening dresses are taking on a gorgeousness of combination discarding the woman of light purse and ambitious soul. Trains and shorter tunics, over petticoats of rich lace, the models of such a costume hinting delicately of the stately days of patch and powder.

One of these rich evening frocks is of rose colored panne, over a petticoat of silk muslin in a paler tint. Black chantilly lace, in wide, irregular, entire deus, is put over a foundation of the muslin to form a very decorative trimming for the princess tunic. It also outlines the petticoat flounce—in a less curving and narrowing width—and where the tunic is caught at the back there are butterfly bows of the panne with slim shaped ends to fall over the train. At the back waist line another of these coquettish bows appears, and one at the bust fastens a shoulder scarf in the same rosy material. For such a costume a long cloak of black satin with wide sleeves and a monk's hood would be in dazzling harmony.

A very pretty house dress for morning or afternoon wear is of blue challie figured with black. A novel bolero effect on the bodice, which fastens at the back, falls over the blouse of white emoloid.

The coars of many of the new house gowns show a lacy transparency as elegant as comfortable. They are in the gupure and lace shapes without lining, some rich device of the dentelle running back and front, beneath the neck line, and those covered with cunningly holding them up at the back. But just as many house gowns are seen without any stock whatever. With these soft lace cape collars are graceful details.

The new fob for the watch of quaint workmanship is another novelty the jeweler are offering this autumn, to be worn tucked through the belt. For the riding habit, instead of the one-time popular watch bracelet, women wear the fob of leather, with an odd, rough jewel or a large monogram in gold or silver. A large uncut turquoise, with the matrix held by four little points of gold and set to two straps of leather, made an odd watch fob for the riding habit, the turquoise, uncut as it was, being of the size of a grape.

Old fashioned bags of knitted beads are in tremendous vogue, so, if it is possible to unearth one, do so by all means. One of white silk threads covered by beaded blue, pink, yellow and green roses and leaves was adorable, with a bit of odd yellow brocade by way of lining and tasselled ends of fringes of tiny gold beads. A card or two, a scrap of a handkerchief and the price of one of those lovely meringue things at Mallard's is all they need to hold. And a bit later, when the meringue season is fairly "on," Mallard's will be filled with just such dainty reticules carried by fond owners.

Monkey skin (peau de singe) is the unique name French designers have given a new cloth, which has a suede-like surface and a slight hairiness. In biscuit tones, with black silk braid and frogs, this is considered very chic, though just as frequently worn with white and of white or tinted doeskin. White is a very dominant note with all of the best French gowns. Even if trimmings of color are used they will be combined with white, and just as often black goes with it.

A gown of checked wool, in dull red, black and white, is gray with bands of white broadcloth crossed by silk loops of red. This is in a model of gored skirt and tailed jacket, which is confined at the waist by a scarf of white cloth. At the right side gore of the skirt, and right edge of the jacket, a fringing of black silk braid is a novel touch.

Small women will stick to the bolero or very short jacket. There is no doubt about this. For the real Parisienne will wear only what suits her, which accounts, probably, for the fact that the latest fashions are worn by the women of other countries who follow her ideas slavishly are well dressed or not, as the case may be.

The small ladies are for the moment ordering either simple boleros—one wonders when the bolero will go out of fashion in France or garments cut short about the waist like an Eton or a bolero and having tails behind. One of the prettiest models have tails that come below the waist, and basques as well. The tight fitting coat with long basques—they reach in some instances to the knee—is fashionable, but only the tall woman wears it.

A very stylish, up to date hat is gray in color, in a flat shape, in carmine's hair, caught up with turquoise blue velvet and fancy wings, the brim lightly trimmed with lace, the extreme edge with mink. Another pretty model is of black velvet, dipping well towards the face, and has a couple of fancy wings on the side, the brim being bordered with shaped frillings of white lace, covered with black chiffon. These and the cloth founces on the same plan are distinctive novelties of the season.

Of Mrs. Roosevelt's tact many stories could be told. She has very good opinions as to what she should and should not do, and she managed to carry her point without giving offense to anybody. Our American habit of indiscriminate handshaking is very distasteful to her and she made up her mind when she went to Albany that she would not have her hands shaken by the hundreds who would pass her at the official reception. Accordingly, at her first reception she charmed the crowd with her sweet smile and pleasant words, but both her hands were observed to be tightly holding a huge bouquet.

This receipt for the removal of the odor of mutton is an original and tested one from an old cook, who made use of it for her own personal benefit. This peculiar odor which permeates the flesh of lambs and sheep, the latter especially, is very offensive to most people, and many who could otherwise enjoy the meat cannot eat it on account of this unpleasant attribute. Now, the remedy is simple and inexpensive for all that is necessary is to take the juice of one lemon and beat with it sufficient butter to make a gray and pour this over the meat when broiling, or when putting it in the oven to bake, it applies to frying also.

Another method which she gave, and which may possibly be known to others, is to pour the gravy of the meat when it is done over some fresh gathered mint leaves, allowing it to remain long enough for the mint to thoroughly flavor it; then pour it back over the meat. This is known as mint gravy.

RHYME OF THE PRESIDENTS.

First stands the lofty Washington.
That noble, great, immortal one.
The elder Adams next we see,
And Jefferson makes the number three.
Then Madison is fourth, you know.
Twelfth on the list, the 22d, Monroe.
The sixth and Adams comes again,
With Jackson seventh in the train.
Van Buren eighth falls into line.
And Harrison makes the number nine.
The tenth is Tyler in his turn,
And Polk, eleventh, so we learn.
The twelfth is Taylor in rotation.
Fillmore, thirteenth, in succession.
Fourteenth, Pierce has been selected.
Buchanan, fifteenth, is elected.
As sixteenth Lincoln rules the nation.
And Johnson, seventeenth, fills his station.
The eighteenth then is Grant, you know
And nineteenth, Hayes from Ohio.
Then comes another Buckeye son,
Garfield, the loved and married one,
Whose term was filled by Arthur
through,
When Cleveland comes as twenty-two.
Then Harrison as twenty-third.
When Cleveland once again is heard.
As twenty-fifth, McKinley great.
Who, too, has shared the martyr's fate,
And though the deepest grief is felt,
We hail the gallant Roosevelt.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY IN HYDE PARK.

A shocking domestic tragedy occurred in Hyde Park yesterday afternoon. A rough-looking peer cut his mother-in-law, a reason at present be assigned for the act. The victim of the outrage is said to be in a dangerous condition.

Do not go to war.

What do ye plant when we plant a tree?
A thousand things that we daily see.
We plant the spirit that outwears the crag;
We plant the staff for our country's flag;
We plant the shade, from the hot sun free;
We plant all these when we plant a tree.

DEBT LIFTED.

Elaborate exercises were held Wednesday evening at the Garden street M. E. church in celebration of the freeing of that church from debt. From 7 o'clock to 7:45 a reception was tendered to former pastors and their wives and families, who were in attendance in the audience room. At 7:45 the large gathering of members and congregation adjourned to the vestry where eleven tables were bountifully spread with a turkey supper prepared and served by members of the Ladies' Aid society. To the march played by Miss Sadie Pearson the gathering filed to the vestry led by the Rev. James Cairns, pastor of the church, and directly followed by Rev. Henry H. Hartwell, Rev. C. U. Dunning, Rev. J. E. Robbins, P. E. Rev. Thomas Tyrie and the members of the official board and the invited guests. When all were seated prayer was offered by the Rev. H. H. Hartwell of Suncook and a hymn sung by the attendance. The banquet was then partaken of until about 9 o'clock when prayer was offered by Rev. C. U. Dunning and then Charles H. Hartwell read the report received from former pastors and invited persons who were unable to attend. Remarks and speeches were afterwards listened to interspersed with songs and selections by a mixed quartet from Lowell which were of a very pleasing nature and were enthusiastically received. The speakers spoke of their experiences and the work accomplished while connected with the church. The Rev. H. H. Hartwell spoke with his old-time enthusiasm.

RAILWAY HEARING POSTPONED.

The board of aldermen met Wednesday evening and adjourned the street railway hearing until next Monday evening, according to the agreement made with Col. Sweeney, counsel for the road, at the police hearing on Tuesday night. Alderman White expressed a desire to have the hearing held in the main city hall, but as the hall is engaged for a polo game on that night it is doubtful if Mr. White's plan can be carried out. He contended that there will not be room enough for the people who will wish to attend, if the hearing is held in the aldermanic chamber.

DEATH STATISTICS.

There were 25 deaths reported to the Board of Health last week. Of those who died 14 were under five and eight over 50 years of age.
The causes: Bronchitis, gangrene of bowels, difficult labor, tuberculosis, insanity, gastro enteritis, heart failure, endocarditis, carcinoma, meningitis, apoplexy during labor, gastritis, nephritis, one each, stillborn three.

SENATORIAL RECOUNT.

As expected the senatorial recount made no material change in the result. Cloutier lost instead of gained and Frost made a gain of 39 votes, 39 of which had apparently been counted for Frederick and nine for Cloutier. Frederick's original vote in Lawrence was 516. The recount gave him 488.

Scribner—No, my article wasn't accepted by the Universal magazine, but they declined it in a most flattering way.

Get the Most
Out of Your Food

You don't eat and can't fill your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is reasonably taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. ## The Andover Seminary.

Last week's quotation from the Reading Chronicle shows a great want of familiarity with theological matters. One of the professors in a seminary which that paper endorses has recently published a book which even the liberal Boston Transcript repudiates in its destructive criticism of commonly received opinions. And it is well known that others of his associates hold and teach according to the modern scholarship. This is what their trustees and students approve, and there is no public opposition to this course. The seminaries are following the lead of Andover Seminary in securing for teachers, competent modern scholars; but in many cases these men lack the temperance and moderation of the Andover faculty.

The Rev. Dr. Dewey, pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims in Brooklyn said some words here last summer, concerning the much persecuted faculty of Andover Seminary, which we wish every opponent to Andover Seminary could read and ponder upon. He said:

"In the evolution of things we are come to a time when it is possible more truly to estimate the service which these men have rendered and the deeper significance of the movement which they have sustained. It is clear to all that they have been leaders, and that at the outset they stood in the van when it cost to assume that exposed position. Bravely they fought their battle; and, when the victory was won, they as courageously and patiently settled down to endure the sacrifice which the victory entailed. It is gratifying to-day to observe how thoroughly time has vindicated these sturdy soldiers of truth; that no one thinks now of charging them with heresy, or of doubting their high intent."

It seems to us that it has long been too much the fashion for the active workers in church work, to condemn the men who are slowly but surely placing the Andover Seminary abreast of the times in religious teaching.

It has seemed as if every speaker and writer upon orthodox religious matters fell back upon abuse of Andover Seminary and its leaders, for a stock subject of speech and essay, and for so long a time have the so-called leaders been feeding their flocks with this hatred of Andover, it is a slow process to change the sentiment to an appreciation of the real conditions.

The words that Dr. Dewey applied to Prof. Smyth and his associates awaken the quickest sympathy in the hearts of every citizen of Andover where these men have lived and been loved.

The Andover public probably knows more of the merits in the theological discussion that surrounds the Seminary than does the great public at large, but it does know the kind of men that direct it, and it believes that the great part they have taken in advanced theological teaching, will some day give them the same place in the heart of the Orthodox church that they now hold in the heart of the community wherein they dwell.

Editorial Cinders.

It will be good news to those who have been unable to secure extra copies of the Townsman, which contained the tributes to Dr. Bancroft, to learn that the articles published at that time have been reprinted in a neat pamphlet. As the introductory note states, the pamphlet is in no sense a memorial volume but is simply a reprint of the Townsman article. It carries as a frontispiece, the favorite picture of Dr. Bancroft, and is printed upon a high grade paper in a very attractive form. The charge is but five cents, and already a large sale is assured.

The article about the Chapel Church Ladies' society, will be greatly enjoyed by those who delight in reminiscences. Its author is just the one to tell the story in its most interesting way, and there will be many who will heartily thank the Ladies' society, for whom the paper was originally prepared, for passing along to a wider enjoyment, such a treat.

The appointment of J. A. Smart as trustee at Tewksbury to succeed the late Dr. Bancroft, is very pleasing to Andover. There could have been no choice made that would bring to the position more qualities that make for good government than does this of Mr. Smart, and the state is honored as much as is the appointed one in the selection.

Free Church Socials.

Last Monday afternoon the Mothers' department of the Free church Benevolent society held its opening meeting and social in the church vestry with 65 of the mothers and children present. An afternoon of the greatest interest and profit was spent by those in attendance, between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. The meeting opened with devotional exercises and was followed by a very excellent program. During the social, a 'lunch' consisting of wafers, sandwiches and cocoa, were served.

The program was as follows: Song, Broe Blonquist; violin solo, Charlotte Cox; song, "Japanese Lullaby," Miss Alice Coutts; reading, Miss Ethel Clark; song, Primary department; reading, Mrs. F. A. Wilson.

Under the auspices of the Benevolent society of the Free church, a supper and social was held at the vestry last evening, at which were present a large number of the church people and friends.

A splendid supper was served from 6.30 to 7.30 o'clock in the smaller vestry, served in that inimitable manner in which the ladies of the Free church always serve their church feasts.

Following the supper, a most excellent entertainment was enjoyed by the gathering. The first feature was a "round," sung by Mrs. J. Newton Cole, Mrs. E. C. Pike, Mrs. Herbert Goff, Miss Helen Ritchie, Miss Annie Maynard and Miss Cecelia Kydd. The "rota" or "round" was written away back in the 12th or 13th century, probably by John of Forester, and is taken from the Reading Manuscript. The words were sung in old English, and translated as nearly as possible, were as follows:

"Summer is coming in
Lender sing cuckoo.
The seed grows and the mead blooms and
The wood springs up new,
Sing cuckoo."

The cow bleats after her lamb,
The cow low after her calf,
Bullock starts the buck goes to pasture,
Merrily sing cuckoo.
Sing as well as the cuckoo."

The remainder of the program was as follows: Song, "Jerusalem, thou that kildest the prophets," Broe Blonquist; shadow pantomime, "The Modern and Medieval Ballad of Mary Jane," "Mary Jane," Miss David; "Benjamin," Harry Sanders; "Lord Mortimer," Fred B. Goff; "The Sire," Charles Riddick; reading of "ballad," Miss Helen Ritchie; song, "Angels ever bright and fair," Broe Blonquist.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to an informal social time.

"Old Ironsides" Fair.

This fair, in aid of the fund for rebuilding the famous old U. S. Frigate Constitution, will be held in Tremont Temple, Boston, beginning Nov. 18, 1901, at 7.30 p. m. The ladies of Boston and New England are cordially invited to cooperate in order that the ship may be placed in commission once more to be used as a training ship at Boston.

An act was passed by Congress authorizing the preservation of the frigate provided sufficient money could be raised. Contributions of articles may be sent to Tremont Temple, Boston, one week previous to the fair, marked "Old Ironsides" fair, care Mrs. E. S. Burton, chairman of floor committee.

Donations of money may be sent to Dr. Blanche A. Deug, treasurer of "Old Ironsides" fair, Hotel Bristol, Boston.

Young Men's Club Organized.

The Young Men's club of the Free church held its second meeting last Monday evening in the vestry with an increased attendance. Officers were elected as follows: Superintendent, Rev. F. A. Wilson; assistant superintendent, Alexander T. Dundas; secretary, Dana Clark; treasurer, George McKenzie; committee, D. L. Coutts, W. N. Lindsay, J. A. Kydd. During the evening an excellent and instructive address on "Electricity in Daily Life" was delivered by Charles H. Eames. The club promises to be very successful.

Charles H. Eames' talk on "Electricity in Daily Life" was warmly welcomed by the Young Men's club of the Free church last Monday evening. Mr. Eames was the first drill master of the Boys' Brigade company and it was specially pleasing to them that he could give the first address to the new organization of which so many of them are members.

The address next Monday night will be given by W. K. Moorehead, curator of the new Archaeological department of the Phillips Academy upon, "Cliff Dwellers and Mound Builders."

Mrs. Gleason's "At Home."

Mrs. F. E. Gleason gave a very charming "at home," at her residence on High street, yesterday afternoon from four until six o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated with quantities of roses, yellow and white chrysanthemums and smilax. The Andover Band orchestra, stationed behind a bower of greenery on the upper landing, discoursed music during the hours of the reception. Mrs. Gleason was assisted in receiving by her cousin, Rev. James Thompson of Ashland, N. H. Mrs. Frank H. Mosser and Mrs. Charles L. White poured tea and Miss Katherine Barnett and Miss Helen Foster presided at the punch bowl. Dainty refreshments were served by Page of Lowell. Two hundred and fifty invitations were issued for the affair, which is the biggest function of the season thus far, in Andover. Florist George Fiddington had charge of the decorations.

KING'S DAUGHTERS

Convention, Held with the Courteous Circle of this Place Last Friday Afternoon and Evening—Address by Rev. G. L. McNutt, Minister and Laborer.

The fifth anniversary convention of the Merrimack Valley league of the King's Daughters was held with the Courteous Circle at the South church, of this place, last Friday afternoon and evening. The attendance was large, especially in the afternoon, many of the out of town ladies leaving after supper. Among the places represented were Boston, Lawrence, Lowell, Haverhill, Methuen and Groveland.

The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock in the parlor, with Mrs. C. A. Barrows presiding. Greetings to Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickinson, general secretary of the order, of New York, were given by Mrs. Hill, state secretary of Massachusetts, Boston, and by Mrs. Barrows, leader of the League, Haverhill. This session lasted until 2.30 o'clock after which the ladies adjourned to the auditorium.

The first thing on the program was an organ voluntary by Miss Maud M. Cole. Then followed the singing of a hymn, "Quiet Hour," a Bible reading, was in charge of Mrs. Dickinson. Miss Brown of Haverhill, rendered a solo, "The New Kingdom," by Tombs.

Business followed, including reports of the nominating committee, by Mrs. Cobban of Groveland, report of the secretary, Mrs. Emerson, Methuen, and notices. Mrs. S. T. Ford of Lowell, spoke on "The King's Daughter in the Church," and Mrs. Dickinson said a few words on "Interrogation Points and Other Points." The question box, "The King's Daughter in the State," was conducted by Mrs. Hill.

An earnest address upon the work of the league was given by Mrs. Dickinson who also had charge of the consecration service. The afternoon exercises were brought to a close by the singing of a hymn, the words of which were written by Mrs. Dickinson.

Supper was served in the vestry from 5.30 to 7 o'clock, in charge of "The Mothers of the Courteous Circle." The tables were tastefully decorated for the occasion with flowers and greenery, and deserve mention for the beautiful effect obtained by the decorating committee. In the auditorium, also, was the committee's work noticeable. Nearly all those present at the convention remained to partake of the supper—an extremely good one.

The evening service was begun at 7.15 with an organ voluntary by Miss Cole. After responsive reading, a prayer was offered by Rev. G. L. McNutt of New York.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. G. L. McNutt of New York, whose work as a minister and laborer has obtained a wide-spread recognition throughout the country. Mr. McNutt demonstrated clearly that he was a man of the people, both by his unostentatious manner of dress and by his clear insight into the life of the laboring man. A speaker of great force and directness, yet he left to the audience the matter of forming its own conclusions and deductions. He described very vividly work of some good and public spirited men carried on among the poorer classes, but, somewhat to the disappointment of the listeners, said little about his own able efforts. The address was concluded all too soon for the desires of those who heard him.

A collection was taken up and then Mr. Pratt sang "A Dream of Paradise." After the benediction by Mr. McNutt, the convention was brought to a close, shortly after half past eight.

The committees which had the convention in charge were as follows: Reception committee—Miss H. L. Erving, chairwoman, Misses Charlotte Holt, Marion and Elsie Holt, Dorothy Logan, Alma Bailey, Sarah Pratt and Miss Brown.

Supper committee—Miss Sara Poor, Mrs. F. A. Andrews, Miss Lucy Kimball.

Decorating committee—Miss Ora W. Neal, Miss Minnie Whitford, and Miss Florence Swift.

Music and program committee—Miss Maud M. Cole and Mrs. T. F. Pratt.

Revival Meetings.

Meetings for religious awakening are to be held next week in the South church. Mr. MacFadden of Chelsea, formerly of the West Parish, will preach both morning and evening on Sunday. Rev. C. L. Jackson will conduct the services on Monday and Wednesday nights. Until recently an evangelist, Mr. Jackson is now pastor of the Baptist church in Whitman. Rev. Clark Carter will preach on Friday night. All evening services will begin at 7.30.

Lowell Ladies Won.

A team match between the ladies of the Andover Golf club and the ladies of Vesper club of Lowell, at Andover, Monday afternoon, was won by the latter by five up. Nine holes were played.

After the match escalloped oysters and chocolate were served in the club house. The afternoon was very much enjoyed by all.

It is probable that a return match will be arranged for the near future.

The scores were as follows:
ANDOVER      LOWELL
Mrs. Lewis      Miss Farrington      2
Miss H. Marland      Mrs. Eastman      1
Miss Hewins      Mrs. Wilder      3

Surprise Party.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered to Miss Blanche Cross of Elm street, last Friday evening, when about 25 of her friends gathered to present her with a pretty gold ring and enjoy a jolly hour. Songs were sung, games played and refreshments served. Among those present were Robert Lockhead, Arthur Donaldson, Henry Donaldson, John Crockett, Ernest Morse, Phil Pascho, Annie Lockhead, Minnie Sellers, Miss O'Connor, May Eastman, Edith Cross, Beattie Hartman, Chas. Lundgren, Geo. Kydd, Alfred Lundgren, Gilbert Fenelon, Everett Lundgren, Le Grand Dodge, Alex McKenzie, Cutter Foster and others.

The Andover Guild.

At the meeting of the directors of the Andover Guild, held last Tuesday evening, the permanent report reported that in the preceding month, one family, where the mother had been sick, had been assisted with coke, wood and groceries; in three cases clothing had been given; and there had been one loan from the emergency closet.

The committee on Girls' work announced that the class in dressmaking, with a membership of twelve, would begin this week or next, and the kitchen garden would begin the last of November, to hold its sessions on Friday afternoons after school hours. The committee also reported that not enough applications had been received to warrant the establishment of a cooking class at present.

The superintendent of the sewing school reported forty-five former scholars this year, fifty-two new ones, and seventeen eligible applications. The directors appropriated $30 for the expenses of the sewing school.

There are four girls' clubs with a total membership of over 50, now meeting each week. Each has a club meeting at the Guild house one evening a week, at which members of the other clubs may be present. Once a month all the clubs meet together under the direction of Miss M. A. Abbott. Miss Hinchcliff, who presides most satisfactorily at the weekly meetings, reports that during the past month the minimum attendance has been ten and the maximum 20.

The following standing committees for the current year were appointed: house committee, Messrs. A. L. Ripley and J. Newton Cole and Mrs. F. A. Andrews; ways and means, Messrs. A. L. Ripley, F. K. Shipman, S. L. Fuller and A. E. Stearns; girls' work, Mrs. J. L. Brewster, Mrs. Helen Danenbower, Mrs. E. Y. Hinks, Mrs. F. Palmer, Mrs. C. W. Scott, Mrs. H. H. Tyer, Mrs. W. M. Watts, and the Misses Margaret Keane, Agnes Park and Evelyn Reed; boys' work, Messrs. S. L. Fuller, A. T. Belknap, J. Newton Cole, Alex. Dick, Burton S. Flagg, C. F. Palmer, A. E. Stearns, and F. A. Wilson; case committee, Mrs. George A. Ripley, Mrs. Wm. G. Goldsmith, Mrs. D. Middleton and Mrs. H. F. Wilson; committee on public meetings, Messrs. J. Newton Cole, and S. L. Fuller, and Mrs. C. W. Scott.

A vote of thanks was passed to all the teachers who engaged the past season in the work of the Summer school.

Copies of the Annual Report of the Guild were received and arrangements made for its circulation. Any one desiring a copy can receive one free by applying at the Guild house or to any of the officers of the Guild—Messrs. J. Newton Cole, A. L. Ripley, F. Palmer, or Mrs. Wm. Marland.

A public meeting will be held during the winter, in the interest of the work which the Guild is endeavoring to do.

ABBOTT VILLAGE.

"The international yacht races at Abbott Village," is now the war cry in that section of the town. Superintendent Lovejoy and his pet roller have been the originators of the project above mentioned. A new piece of macadam road on Mineral street, starting at the Village centre, was built last week and it was a question with the residents of the Village why the road was being built with such a crown, and how the water was going to get across from the west side to run into the river through the culvert on the east side. It doesn't; it flows to the lowest point on the west side and there it remains. Already, there is a good sized lake which bids fair to rise still higher, and the small urchin is happy, and with good reason, for cannot he wade, skate and fall in whenever the mood strikes him, and without any trouble? Superintendent Lovejoy's plea is "no money" for a culvert under the road. But the Abbott Villagers think they would rather have had mud a little longer, than wet cellars.

A checker school in connection with the Burns club is being agitated among the members.

WEST PARISH.

The regular meeting of the League was held last Tuesday evening.

A social will be held in the vestry of the West church next Thursday evening.

T. S. Simons of St. John, N. B., is spending a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hardy.

Firemen's Ball.

The firemen's ball will be held this year on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, in the Town hall. As usual, it will be the biggest dancing event of the season in town and, as usual, there will be just as much enjoyment for everyone. The Andover Band orchestra will furnish the music. At 12 o'clock, supper will be served by Caterer Tanner of Haverhill, in the dining hall at the Engine house, after which dancing will be resumed until the early morning hours. Many out of town firemen have been invited and are expected to attend in uniform. The committee of arrangements and reception committee for the ball consists of the following: Capt. W. L. Morse, 1st Lieut. G. A. Morse, 2nd Lieut. C. S. Buckner, Clerk, G. C. Dunnells, F. M. Smith, A. Kaiser and F. E. Morse.

COMMUNICATION

The Mistake Made by the Voters at the Last March Meeting.

The 18th Article of the warrant was for the town to adopt the grade of streets as recommended by the Board of Public Works, as shown on certain plans. This seemed a very innocent matter as no money was asked for, to carry out the plan. Indeed while there seems to have been very little discussion of the question, it looked as if it were to prevent unnecessary expenditure, as the main, if not the only reason given in its favor was to prevent the Highway surveyor from covering up certain manhole covers already located.

Of course it is a question, how many of the voters understood the plans, when they voted to adopt them.

What is to be stated in this communication relates only to the west side of the street, which the town has to provide for.

All of this concreting on the west side has been done within about eight years. There is a good concrete gutter from the Square to the intersection of School street, near the top of the Hill, with proper entrances to all of the estates needing them. With only a slight change (to be noticed in a later article) this has been the grade of Main street for many years.

The water pipe with all of the hydrants was put in to conform to it, as was the sewer pipe.

If the grade of the street is made to conform to the rails of the Electric road, as recently located, nearly every rod of this gutter will not only be useless, but will have to be removed.

No one of the estates will be benefited by the change and some of them will be much less easily reached than they now are. It will be noticed that this article relates only to the west side of the street, and to the mistake made in changing the grade on account of the cost to the town.

There are other things besides political liberty that require eternal vigilance.

Basket Ball.

The Girls' Basket Ball team of Punchard met with greater success at Lowell Normal last Friday, than they expected when they started. The real score at the end of the game was 8 to 10 in Punchard's favor, but on account of Lowell Normal's way of adding up the points at the end, which was entirely different from Punchard's way, the score was finally called a tie, 9 to 9, after a long discussion.

The first half was played by Punchard's rules, nine on a side; the second half by Normal school's, seven on a side. The girls all played a splendid game, doing honor to P. F. S. and making Lowell Normal work. At the end of the first half the score was 5 to 5. Between each half and at the end, refreshments were served to the teams. Normal girls are certainly all right at entertaining, and Punchard hopes for a return game soon and to keep up their end at entertaining. Miss Florence Baldwin acted as referee.

The make up of Punchard was as follows:

Goal Thrower Maud Meader
Right Forward Sally Pratt
Center Harriet Abbot
R. Guard Dorothy Logan
L. Guard Clara Clemons
Defender Carolyn Abbot
Defender Doris Downing
Defender Lucy Abbott

*Did not play second half.
Miss DeWint played in Miss Clemons' place second half.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

Merrimacks, 2; Andover, 1

Andover lost its first game last Saturday afternoon at Burnham park, Lawrence, to the strong Merrimack eleven. The Andover team had a large share of the game, but want of combination and looseness in the front line lost them many goals. J. and D. Falconer and R. Cairnie played finely for Andover. The Merrimack team is one of the best in the district and contains five of the old North Andovers.

The following team represented Andover: Goal, D. O'Connell; backs, J. Falconer and Black; half backs, J. Cairnie, Haddon and Smyth; forwards, T. Lynch, Hibbert, Lowe, D. Falconer, R. Cairnie.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3.00 on the cricket grounds the Methuens will be Andover's opponents. The teams are—Andover: O'Connell, J. Falconer, Fee, Smyth, J. Cairnie, W. Haddon, D. Falconer, Lowe, R. Cairnie, T. Lynch, Black, Methuen, Wilson, Paton, Teale, Sowers, Earnshaw, Hamer, Saxon, Ogden, Marsland, Hamber, Mack.

Joe Paton, formerly with the North Andovers, will play with the Methuens, and unless the Andover captain and he can keep cool, something neither has yet done when playing against each other, there is apt to be trouble. Both are generally equally at fault.

Admission, 10 cents.
A return game with the Merrimacks will be played here Thanksgiving day.

FOOTBALL

Exeter 3; Andover 0.

Poor judgment in running the team was all that kept Andover from playing Exeter to a standstill last Saturday at Exeter. After Exeter kicked off, Leavenworth ran the ball back 20 yards. Taylor and Mains were sent at the line for small gains and then Taylor was called on for a punt. He booted the leather 40 yards and Moore fumbled, Cates falling on the ball. Again Taylor tried the line in the center of the field, failing to gain. Kinney went through for first down. With Dutcher back, Leavenworth gained three yards. Taylor failed to gain through right tackle and was thrown for a loss trying right end. Exeter secured the ball on downs in the center of the field.

Brill, Connor, Moore and Cooney carried the ball in order named, Connor being tackled behind the line for a loss by Cates. In a trick play, after 8 yards' gain by Moore, Cates tackled the runner for a loss behind the line and on the next play it was Andover's ball for holding. Leavenworth failed to gain and Kinney went through center for 10 yards. Exeter secured the ball for holding in the center of the field and then started on a procession down the field for a touchdown by Brill, the gains being made mainly through Dutcher. Brill failed to kick the goal and 5 to 0 was the score for the remainder of the game.

Andover's mistake was in not kicking more. When she saw how Exeter's backs fumbled the first punt, while her own backs were making little impression on the Exeter line, the policy should have been to kick and kept kicking until Taylor could have been given an opportunity for a field goal, or if that had failed, at least her own goal would not have been seriously threatened. The mistake was emphasized during the game by the almost continual fumbling of Exeter's backs, Kinney and Sumner falling on the ball after fumbles, while in the other instances the Exeter man was thrown for a loss nearly every time. Three times Andover gave up the ball on downs.

In the second half, Andover kicked more but it was then too late, although it showed that by kicking she could have kept Exeter from scoring, for her goal was not seriously threatened during this half. Aside from the lack of generalship, which was noticed by everybody, little but praise can be said for the Andover team as a unit, for fighting so pluckily against overwhelming odds. They surprised many and did almost exactly what many others imagined they would do, i. e., hold Exeter down to a small score if not to keep them from scoring at all. Brill was the bright particular star of the game.

The summary:

EXETER. Stone, 1 e; Dutcher, 1 t; Hooper, 1 g; Dillon, 1 r; Cooney, 1 t; Lewis, 1 e; Brown, 1 b; Connor, 1 b; Moore, 1 b; Jenkins, 1 b.
ANDOVER. Stone, 1 e; Watkins, 1 t; Carr, 1 g; Hooper, 1 c; Thompson, 1 g; Kinney, 1 t; Cates, 1 e; Heckscher, 1 b; Sumner, 1 b; Leavenworth, 1 b; Taylor, 1 b; Mains, 1 b.

Score—Exeter 3, Andover 0. Touchdown—Brill. Umpire—Frank Halliwell. Referee—Lorin F. DeLand. Linesmen—Elliott and Smith. Timer—John Graham. Time—35 and 22 minutes halves.

Andover Town Team 10; Wakefield H. S. 5.

The Andover football team played Wakefield high school at Wakefield last Saturday and defeated them 10 to 5. Wakefield was heavier than Andover but before they could get their formation plays, upon which they depended a great deal, in motion, Andover had them broken up.

The team work of the local eleven was good and as a result the first touchdown was made by Stewart after seven minutes of play. The gains were made by tackle plays and straight line bucking. Back touchdowns made by Andover came in the first half. After Wright failed to kick the goal, the ball was kicked off to Andover's 15 yd. line and from there was carried the length of the field without loss for a touchdown made by Angus.

Wakefield's score came in the second half. Hardly fumbled and Wakefield secured the ball on their opponent's 15 yd. line and from there they carried it over for a touchdown.

Andover's line-up was as follows: A. Lundgren, 1 e; Collins, 1 t; Wright (capt.), 1 g; Matthews, 1 c; Hardy, 1 g; Abbott, 1 t; C. Lundgren, 1 e; Driscoll, 1 b; Stewart, 1 b; Lawson, 1 b; Angus, 1 b. Officials: referees, R. Hutcheson; umpire, Stone of Wakefield; timer, J. Hutcheson; linesmen, W. Lindsay, Andover, Clifford, Wakefield.

The Blue Stockings of North Andover have been challenged to play a game of football by the Andover Town team but as yet have not replied to the communication sent by the management of the local eleven. It looks very much as if the North Andover boys were a little shy of their Andover neighbors and were timid about trying conclusions with them on the gridiron. From games played with other teams the two elevens ought to be nearly equal in strength and a hot game will likely result if they can be brought together.

The Blue Stockings and the Marland Villagers played a 0 to 0 game Saturday. The line up of the Blue Stockings is as follows: Capt. Daley, 1 h b; Lundgren, 1 h b; Jewett, 1 b; J. Donovan, 1 g; Bailey, 1 e; Poore, 1 t; Sweeney, 1 g; Anderson, 1 g; Duane, 1 g; Cummings, 1 t; W. Donovan, 1 e.

John M. Cates was elected captain of the 1902 football eleven at Phillips academy last Saturday night after the Exeter game. Cates comes from Boston and is also captain of the track team for next year. He played this year at left tackle the last two weeks of the season, his position previously having been at end.

Andover football team will meet Peabody high school on the P. A. campus tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Peabody eleven defeated Wakefield 5 to 0. Peabody has a strong team and a good game may be expected.

The Indian Ridge school second eleven defeated the Turnpikes 5 to 0, Saturday morning.

Many friends of the deceased were present. The remains rested in a beautiful pink plush casket with silver trimmings. An abundance of flowers were in evidence showing the esteem and love in which the deceased was held by relatives, friends and acquaintances. The casket was borne in Sherborn, Nova Scotia, and passed away at the age of 22 years. She was a member of Roger Williams colony, U. O. P. of Methuen where she formerly lived. She leaves a mother and two sisters in Sherborn, N. S., Miss Margaret E. DeAtter of Methuen and two brothers in North Andover. The bearers were: John Coleman, James Kernes, John T. Finn, Henry G. Schneider, Thomas H. Broderick and John D. McRobbie. Interment was in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Lawrence High 16; Black Stockings 0.

The Lawrence High school eleven defeated the Blue Stockings Wednesday afternoon on the Tavern lot by a score of 16 to 0. The defeat was a hard one for the Lawrence team and a bitter disappointment to their supporters. The Lawrence High people came over confident realizing that their glory was gained almost wholly by the work of one man, and being large and unimpaired of body, was called upon to plough through the line and around the ends for gain after gain. If the Blue Stockings had put up the game that they are able to, the superiority of the Lawrence High team would rest alone in Gatewood, the star left tackle. Kent and Smith were sent through the line for substantial gains with fine interference while Gatewood made gains with the raggedest of interference and at times with no interference whatever. The Lawrence team showed their practice in every play coming out of the game nearly as fresh as at the beginning.

The Blue Stockings showed lack of practice which has been neglected of late. Although they were able to gain their distance when in possession of the ball every man did not get into the game as he should. The ends Smith and Hargreaves did good work and McQuestion covered the back field satisfactorily. The line which was counted as being so strong was the weakest. Finnigan played a solitary game at right tackle, not being backed up properly in his work. In fact the Blues as a team in the face of their first defeat, put up one of the poorest games of the season. But there is always hope and it will make them work hard to win the game on Thanksgiving day.

The game commenced shortly after 1 o'clock with a strong wind diagonally across the field favorable to neither side. Smith kicked off for the Blues for 40 yards. Lawrence brings ball down the field at the rate of 5 yards one yard, one yard, three and a half. Kent carries ball 45 yards down by Kelly who fumbled, but Taylor of Lawrence secured ball then it continues 5 yards to gain, 3 yards. Finnigan gets ball on fumble. Hargreaves gains 25 yards on fumble. Blues then carry ball from center of field 25 yards and then lose ball on downs. Lawrence carries ball to Blue's one yard line and is unable to score. Blues takes ball and after failing to make their distance, resort to a pass. Lane breaks through and blocks the kick. Horton falls on the ball scoring at outchdown for Lawrence. Time is up for the first half. O'Brien kicks a goal and the score stands 6-0 in favor of Lawrence.

The second half commences by Lawrence kicking off to McQuestion. But Hargreaves being out of the picture runs into him and the ball is fumbled with the result that Lawrence's man gets it. This was the last hope which the Blues had of scoring, and with this opportunity lost Lawrence had their only way. Gatewood was pushed over the goal line for a second touchdown, but O'Brien's try at goal was blocked by Mackie. Score 11 to 0. Smith kicks off the last time for the Blues and rushing down the field tackles and downs the man in his tracks. The ball is carried down the field slowly but surely for a third touchdown but the Blues make a stand and with but a short time to play O'Brien makes a successful place kick from the field. The final score: Lawrence High 16; Blue Stockings 0. This was the Lawrence goal in danger.
